belove in Firing the Guns Due to Nervous Ship's Stability Satisfactory-Small Partitions Smashed by Concussion

dent's death was signalled yesterday to the Russian battleship Retvizan from the Delaware Breakwater as she was weighing anchor to proceed to sea for the most imthe construction and acceptance of a warship, that of the heavy batteries, and out of respect the Stars and Stripes were hoisted aloft and slowly dipped to half mast, where the flag remained all day. It was the means of informing many passing vessels of Mr. McKinley's death.

The ship steamed direct to the neighborhood of Five-Fathom Bank Lightship, where she had made remarkable success in her speedy trial.

for the test during the night and the Russians who were in charge of the firing sen the first shell from the starboard 12-inch after gun at 9:40 o'clock. It was only a half-service charge and the effect pro-duced on the ship was slight. After much delay, on account of the nervousness of the foreigners who fired the guns from the conning tower by means of long wires, another of the big guns sent a shell bounding across the sea with the velocity pro-duced by a three-quarter-service charge and the ship's vibrations were more noticeable from this shot. The motion was soon

The great shock came when both 12-inch ofter guns were fired simultaneously with full charges. The noise was terrific and full charges. The noise was terrine and the frail wooden partitions and doors that temporarily separated the quarters of the main deck were smashed and twisted like splinters and some of the electrical appli-ances were disturbed. Otherwise there was ances were disturbed. Otherwise there was no noticeable chamage to the ship, and E. S. Cramp, who is on board in charge, was highly pleased with the stability of the ship as proved by this shot. Only a few shots were fired from the forward big guns. After one or two shots, one of the ammunition hoists got out of order.

The only differences that occurred during the day between the builders and representatives of the Czar were when the foreign gunners proposed to fire both forward guns at once, elevated to a pitch that threw them exceedingly close to the overhang of the tives protested. After much argument, the shot was not fired.

The guns, turrets, ammunition, hoists are, were all products of Russia, and the turrets are undoubtedly of splendid construction, as the effect of the test by careful measurement did not move them one sixty-fourth of an inch.

The test will be completed in two days. Much longer time was taken than was necessary on account of the trepidation of the Russians, who went to remote parts of the ship at each shot. The Russians placed living rabbits in the gun turrets during the fire to see if they would live, so as to show the effect on gunners in the turrets. Not a single rabbit was affected, yet the Russians were very timid about entering the turrets.

METROPOLITAN'S REPORT. Profits of the Company's Street Railroads

for the Past Year. annual report of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company for the year ending June 30, 1901, furnished to the Railroad Comners at Albany on Saturday, make

These figures are based on the same track mileage as last year, and, except for the final thirty days' cover operation on main lines by the old cable. This practically excludes from the showing any of the economies resulting from the conversion from cable to electric traction, the full effect of which will be accruent during the current year. to electric traction, the full effect of which will be apparent during the current year.

During the last half of the year covered by the report dividends were paid on $52,000,000 instead of $45,000,000, as formerly. The increased cost of operation was made in the period during which the company's main lines on Broadway, Columbus and Lexington avenues were under alteration from cable to electric traction.

HELD UP "BIG JIM" PARKER. Negro Who Jumped on Czolgosz Arrested by Mistake a Month Ago.

MILWAUERS, Wis., Sept. 15.—"Big Jim" Parker, who jumped on Czolgosz when the assassin fired the shots which killed McKiney, was in the city a month ago and had an experience with the police. The police had received a report that a negro had come to town who was acting suspiciously. Detective Rooney was assigned to the case and found Parker in the station of the Milwaukee road and questioned him. When Parker heard who his visitor was he laughed:
"Me?" he said "Why, I'se 'Big Jim' Parker. Everybody knows me. I am all As evidence that he was all right Rooney was told to examine his baggage, and when he did so decided that Jim was no thief and apologized for his intrusion. Parker then went to St. Paul.

"DEAF AND DUMB" MAN SWORE. Mendicant Gets Drunk and Attacks Boy to

John Durrant, a mendicant, who professes o be deaf and dumb, was drunk in Madisor Square park on Saturday afternoon and tried to tear a boy's clothing off his body. The boy was almost naked and his clothes were in tatters when Policeman McInerney arrested Durrant. Durrant carried a sign hung around his neck, reading: I am dea and dumb."

McInerney said that the prisoner swore dreadfully when a night's lodging was offered to him at the station. In Jefferson Market police court yesterday Magistrate Pool put Durrant under $200 bail to insure his good behavior for three months.

ORANGE CITIZENS REBEL. Want to Know Why Common Council Gave Lighting Contract to "Highest Bidder."

ORANGE, N. J., Sept. 15.-An open letter igned by Thomas C. Colt, James E. Briscoe, Walter H. Milker, Honry W. Struck and H. J. Struck, Jr., all of this city, has been laued relative to the action of the Common Council in voting to award the lighting contract to the United Electric Company, and in it the motives and actions of Mayor Henry Steteon are questioned. The writers want the citizens to compel the Council "to explain why they have refused to act in the set interests of the community by awarding best interests of the community by awarding so valuable a contract and franchise to the highest bidder."

Choked to Death at Dinner. James McGoogan, 69 years old, a quarry- Ligura. man, was eating his dinner at his home in King street, West New York, N. J. yesterday when a piece of meat lodged in his throat. His daughter hurried for Dr. Armstrong, but before the physician reached the house McGoogan had choked to death.

RETVIZAN'S BIG GUNS FIRED. WANTS HIS 25,000 PRANCS BACK.

Armanno Dirigo, who said that he was the proprietor of the Hotel Gonforoni at Macdougal and Eighth streets, was arraigned in Jefferson Market police court yesterday, charged with the larceny of 25,000 francs from Andrea Maraglia, who has been living at the Gonforoni since he landed here on Aug. 31. Maraglia came here from Havre on the French liner La Champagne. He inquired for an Italian hotel and was recommended to the Gon-foroni. Dirigo introduced himself as the foroni. Dirigo introduced himself as the proprietor, Maraglia says, and the traveller gave Dirigo 20,000 francs in Italian bank notes, 4,000 francs in gold coin and 1,000 in French francs to deposit in a bank for safe keeping. Dirigo would not give a receipt for the money because the banks were not open at the time he received it.

After that, Maraglia says, he repeatedly importuned Dirigo for the receipt or the money, but could get neither. Maraglia says that during his stay here Dirigo pointed out many presperous looking business houses as concerns in which he had an interest and urged that Maraglia go into business with him. Finally Maraglia complained to the Detective Bureau and Dirigo was arrested at his home, 125 Second avenue.

Magistrate Pool held Dirigo in $6,000 bail for examination. Max Schutz Schwedler appeared in court and said that he, not Dirigo, was the proprietor of the Gonforoni and that Dirigo simply hung around the hotel. Dirigo once had a mort-gage on the place, but it was paid some time ago, Schwedler said.

SENDS PASTOR AS MISSIONARY. The Rev. Dr. Greene's Church Will Pay

His Salary in Cuba. EAST ORANGE, N. J., Sept. 15 .- The Rev Dr. J. where his task will be to establish Presby-terian churches throughout the island. Dr. Greene will make his headquarters in Havana. He will have three experi-enced missionaries and a colporteur under him. Though under the direction of the Presbyterian Board of Missions, his salary will be paid by the East Orange church. Dr. Greene is a graduate of Princeton Colwill be paid by the East Orange church. Dr. Greene is a graduate of Princeton College and of the Union Theological Seminary, and his first charge was the Third Presbyterian Church of Brooklyn, from 1868 to 1873. After the war with Spain he was sent to Porto Rico, where he built and organized the first Presbyterian church on that island.

TOOK MINISTER FOR ANARCHIST. He Was Under Arrest, and the Crowd Tried to Get at Him.

The Rev. John Herborn, an itinerant Methodist minister who interfered with Policeman Gleason of the bicycle squad as he was arresting an intoxicated man at Eighth a venue and Twenty-seventh street on Saturday night, was fined $5 in the Jefferson Market police court yesterday. The policeman said that the minister had The policeman said that the minister had called him a Tammany bum and a Croker thief. He tried to pull Gleason's prisoner away, the policeman said, and then loudly berated the bluecoat for being an Anarchist. He was put under arrest.

The crowd which had gathered heard the word Anarchist and thought that Gleason's prisoner was one. There was a rush, and Gleason and the minister were carried along.

The crowd was ready and anxious to jump on Herborn, but the arrival of two police-men saved him. CARLISLE TRAINING SCHOOL. Seventy-seven Tribes Represented Stu-

CARLISLE, Pa., Sept. 15.—Col. R. H. Pratt, general manager of the Indian Training School, this city, has just made his twenty-second annual report to the Department of the Interior. It gives the total population of the school as 1.007, representing seventy-seven tribes, the Senecas numbering the highest. During the year the students earned $28,714.59, and had a balance of $19,594.83. There were four deaths, 163 discharges, 232 admissions and $32 outlings.

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 15. Baron Moncheur, the Belgian Minister to Mexico, who is visiting in Monterey, has just made the visiting in Monterey, has just made the formal announcement of his engagement to Miss Clayton, daughter of United States Ambassador Powell Clayton. Baron Moncheur has been promoted to the post of Belgian Ambassador to the United States and he will shortly leave Mexico to take up his residence in Washington. His marriage to Miss Clayton will probably occur about the middle of October.
